REGISTER NOW - 2pm Webinar

The prominence of non-financial risks in financial services is becoming more prevalent and is being recognised as the emerging key area of risk management. This Insights Webinar will look at the industry focus towards the management of the emerging risks being faced such as:

- Emerging technologies
- Cyber security
- Operational resilience

Topics discussed will be around areas such as the rapid adoption of technology, which may increase risks that are otherwise unforeseen, and others, such as data privacy and the moral impact of new technology such as facial recognition and AI.
